The Happy Chocolatier Product Review

If you love chocolate truffles, you will love the ones I got honored to review today.

From, The Happy Chocolatier, I received a box of their cubze chocolate truffles. These sophisticated chocolates have a inspirational thought wrapped in each one. Bringing you not only nectar to your lips, but putting a smile on your face. As you slowly unwrap one of the nine cubze in the box, you get a cute witty inspiration.

Whether you are eating a cubze your self, or passing it on as a gift, you are going to enjoy the high quality chocolate treasures. The variety of flavors are from cappuccino, to raspberry. The hand molded chocolate cubze are hand molded, great for themes, events, and so much more. You can also pass them on as a corporate gift. Now matter who gets theses signature truffle cubze, you will be putting a smile on someone's face, if not your own. The mission of The Happy Chocolatier, is smiles!

The chocolate is rich, and all natural, and mouth watering to say the least.

Every bite you take is unique, delicious, and so sophisticated. These delicious confections are covered in luscious chocolate that just melts in your mouth. They make a wonderful treat for your self, on a dessert bar, even use them for a wedding or bridal event. The box they are sent in is ready to give as a gift.

Every five percent of profits are donated to feeding America.
